

REEPERBAHN FESTIVAL 2014: AUSTRIAN HEARTBEATS

ARTIST: BILDERBUCH

ALBUM: FEINSTE SEIDE (EP)

"We need more sex in German-speaking music", says the band Bilderbuch from Vienna. In 2013 Bilderbuch's single "Plansch" hit the Austrian music scene like a refreshing tidal wave. From the compelling electronic playfulness and cool, mellow vocals to the juicy music video - Bilderbuch proved that their versatility comes along with mad talent. The next single "Maschin" from the EP "Feinste Seide", released by the band's newly founded label "Maschin Records", sends out a mix of sexy and nerdy sparks, which is heated up by the brilliant music video.

Maurice Ernst (vocals, guitar), Michael Krammer (guitar), Peter Horazdovsky (bass) and Philipp Scheibl (drums) are full of style, attitude and pazazz, and bring the necessary musical skills to convert these attributes into amazing songs. The year 2014 brings the band four nominations of the "Amadeus Austrian Music Awards" and the victory prize of the FM4 Award, a festival tour covering all major festivals, ranging from Melt!, Hurricane to Southside, and the support slot of the German band Beatsteaks on their extensive fall tour.

QUOTES:

Maurice, Peter, Mike und Pille sind die Lässigkeit in Person. Bilderbuch sind wohl die einzigen neben Kanye West, die Autotune verwenden können, ohne absolut beschissen zu klingen - und das auch noch auf Deutsch. Noissey/Music by VICE

Wenn der Pop so gut ist, wie er es nur selten sein kann: Es fehlen die Worte, um dies zu beschreiben. Diese Musik ist geil, weil sie geil ist. Man muss das hören. Noch besser: Man muss rausgehen auf die Tanzfläche, um es zu erleben. Süddeutsche Zeitung
