Music Mobility Funding Guide – Focus on Europe

On the Move

On the Move is the international information network focused on the mobility of artists and cultural professionals that has, in 2023, 66 members in 24 countries. It is co-funded by the European Union and the French Ministry of Culture. On the Move provides free, up-to-date information on mobility opportunities and funding through its website, social media channels, and monthly multilingual newsletter; creates guides and reference documents on professional cultural mobility and related topics; studies and takes action on social justice issues tied to mobility (such as administrative barriers and ecological challenges); and facilitates learning opportunities and other events for its members and partners. On the Move advocates for increased equity, inclusion, and diversity in the field of professional cultural mobility.

Music Export Poland

Music Export Poland Foundation was created out of the need to expand the export of Polish music and promote it on foreign markets. The basic motivation to establish the Foundation was the conviction that, although Polish artists and creators have been present on foreign markets for years, creating the right conditions and providing them with the necessary competence will allow them to make even better use of their potential, and will give those who are just beginning their adventure with export a solid foundation.

The activities of Music Export Poland focus on theoretical preparation and education of the Polish music market players (through workshops, seminars, webinars, conferences, trainings, but also individual consultations) as well as on creating opportunities for them to emerge on foreign markets – either directly (trade missions) or thanks to cooperation with foreign artists (songwriting camps). Thanks to an extensive network of contacts abroad, MExP is a platform for Polish creators, artists and professionals to start or develop their career abroad.

Introduction

This Cultural Mobility Funding Guide provides an overview of the funding bodies and programmes that support the international mobility of music artists (authors, composers, musicians, bands, orchestras) and other music professionals traveling from and/or to countries in Europe.

On the Move, in partnership with Music Export Poland, commissioned music industry and mobility experts Jess Partridge and Marie Fol to map grants and support schemes in which music is either the main focus, or is specifically listed as an eligible discipline. We attempt to cover all types of musical expression from ancient to more contemporary forms - be they considered classical, jazz, pop, "world", etc.

However, we have not included a specific category for sound art. Sound art is mentioned under more cross-disciplinary forms.

Our aim is to transparently consolidate existing information that can help organisations and individuals find the best ways to engage with international colleagues and finance their cross-border travel.

This guide lists local, national, and international resources, both public and private. We have only included opportunities that are regularly occurring, accessible online, invite applications through open calls, and that cover at least a portion of international travel costs. Our research phase took place from August to December 2022.

How to navigate this guide?

- There are various reasons a user of this guide might seek mobility funding, including that:
- They have been selected for a project in a foreign country (collaboration project, artistic residency or songwriting camp, showcasing at a festival, etc.) but have not been provided with funding for their mobility costs.
- They have developed a project with an international component and wish to invite foreign musicians and cultural professionals to one or more places/countries for co-production, touring, market development, etc.
- They are interested in professional experiences (including training) in a foreign country and are seeking a way to cover their travel costs.

In light of these different aims, the entries in this guide present the costs that are covered by each scheme, including cross-border travel, visas, per diems, remuneration of collaborators, accommodation, production costs, and other types of support (e.g. translation).

We encourage people interested in specific funding opportunities to research past grantees in order to get a sense of their potential eligibility beyond the listed criteria.

This Guide also tries to highlight schemes that take into account societal concerns – particularly programmes that make extra funding available for overland travel (where possible), for the needs of disabled artists or caregivers, and/or for digital or hybrid formats of cross-border collaboration.

And, as with all of On the Move's funding guides, we hope to provide cultural policy makers and private funders with a broad overview of existing schemes so that they can modify and update their initiatives within this landscape in order to sustain and expand equitable access to professional cultural mobility for all.

Geographic focus

This guide collects:

- Mobility funding opportunities open to nationals and residents in one of the 46 European countries in focus, described as Outgoing Mobility OM
- Mobility funding opportunities open to nationals from countries other than these 46 European countries, described as Incoming Mobility IM

The guide covers 46 countries located on the European continent, which are members of the Council of Europe: Albania, Andorra, Armenia, Austria, Azerbaijan, Belgium, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Georgia, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Kosovo, Latvia, Liechtenstein, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Moldova, Monaco, Montenegro, Netherlands, North Macedonia, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Romania, San Marino, Serbia, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Ukraine, and the United Kingdom.

There are no funding schemes listed for 8 countries (Andorra, Azerbaijan, Cyprus, Georgia, Latvia, Moldova, North Macedonia, San Marino) as no resource was found at the time of research. There are however two additional sections with Europe-wide (inc. regions such as Nordic & Baltic, Mediterranean, Central and Eastern European, and Balkan) and International funding schemes which cover countries for which there are no specific funding schemes.

Feedback & further information

While we aim to bring together in a single document all the resources corresponding to our criteria, we are fully aware of the limits of such an exercise. Please send any corrections or suggestions to info@on-the-move.org. This feedback will help us enrich the next edition of this guide.

On On the Move's website we collect and publish temporary cultural mobility opportunities, such as calls for projects and funding opportunities. You can also get this information by subscribing to our free multilingual newsletter! It's sent out every month.

Note from the researchers

We would like to make the following clarifications ahead of your reading:

- The eligibility of artists and musicians covers both individuals as groups of artists. Where necessary, eligibility of ensembles or orchestras are specifically mentioned.
- The focus on music genres varies from funding scheme to funding scheme. It is listed in each entry, and it is good to double check before applying.
- Funds are either multidisciplinary (any discipline is eligible) or music specific (only music projects can apply). Note that it is vastly different to apply for a multidisciplinary fund, as you will have to write your application keeping in mind that your selection jury may not know anything about the music sector.
- “Project Funding” can often encompass the other areas eg. you could design or fund an international visit as your project, resembling a residency; or do significant research; or invite people from abroad to your events or in your project activities.

Additionally, we would like to bring the following recommendations in focus:

- We highly recommend you check your Export Office and your Music Information Centres when considering leaving your country (“Outgoing Mobility”, usually what an Export Office would guide you through) to go to another place. Existing Offices & Centres are listed in the “relevant links” at the start of each country listing.
- Make sure to check “IM – Incoming Mobility” for countries you wish to go to. Funds do not exist solely to go abroad, some are specifically designed to invite people over. For those, you may need a local partner who will invite you and/or write the application for you. Details are listed in the guide!
- Some ministries and large public agencies have calls to support international mobility which are hard to find, mostly because their publication date is not listed. We strongly recommend you check those agencies (such as the British Council, for instance) for current calls, as well as have a look under “public tenders”.
- We recommend you check in your country of origin/residence the support that may exist for international trade, economy and export (mostly under “Entrepreneurship” or similar departments and agencies depending on the Ministry of Economy and Trade). Indeed, in many European countries, the music sector is composed of micro, small and medium businesses (even as one-person companies or sole traders) and those are usually eligible for financial support from such public agencies.

We recommend you start browsing this guide through the table of content, which gives an overview of the public, private, national and regional funding organisations in each country. For each organisation, you can click on the name of a specific funding scheme to access its detailed presentation in the guide. Once you find a funding scheme that matches your plans, make sure to visit the listed website to double check the latest eligibility criteria and note the application deadline.

Happy reading!

The touring aid system accompanies the structuring and development of artistic teams in their distribution. The requests are studied and the touring aids are engaged by a biannual commission associating the team of Occitanie en Scène and professionals of the production, the diffusion or the accompaniment in popular music ("musiques actuelles"). The expertise is based on the evaluation of the risk-taking and the artistic stakes with regard to the feasibility of the project (the music band must defend an established artistic proposal), the capacity of the management or production structure to mobilize a distribution network in and outside the region, and the structural as well as the artistic development work of the project.

Other criteria:

- The artistic project (album, repertoire, etc.) must have been created in the two years preceding the application.
- The duration of the tour for which the application is made must extend over a maximum period of 18 months. Within this tour, the application must identify 10 to 15 eligible dates to be supported.
- A minimum of 30% of these performances must be confirmed or contracted before the application, and a maximum of 30% of these performances can be carried out before the application.
- The management or production structure must comply with the agreed minimum wages.

Costs Covered:

- Cross-border travels
- Visas
- Remuneration / fees / cachet
- Production costs
- Accommodation

Size of grants: The aid is calculated on the basis of the overall projected budget for the tour. It is capped at 30% of the tour's payroll (artists, technicians), transportation costs and structural costs, up to a limit of 20% of the projected production budget, and cannot exceed €6,000
